Asserting that the preparednes provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval in Europe was tary Bryan on yesterday, in a second of his series of three statements on the individual-Otto Johnson, in the "The causeless war," submits an argument against military preparation by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency.

"If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan. "We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean and this protection is worth more to and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battleships. "We have an additional protection in the fact, known to every one, that we have the men with whom to form an army of defense if we are ever at-tacked; and it is known also that we would have the money, too—more money than we would have if all the surplus carrings of the records. surplus earnings of the people had been invested in armament. We not only do not need additional preparation, but we are fortunate in not having it, since it seems impossible naving it, since it seems impossible for a nation to have what is called preparedness without having along with it a disposition to use its pre-paredness on the slightest provoca-

RUSSIANS VS. GERMANS

Galacian Campaign Disastrous

London, June 17.—Another 24 hours of fighting in Galacia has developed nothing to stem the Austro-German advance toward Lemberg and tonight Berlin claims the Russians are retreating over their own frontier to-ward Tarnogrod, four miles from the Galacian border.
This means an invasion of Russia territory at a new point, but according to military observers here, it may spell ultimate advantage for the Russians in that a general Russian re-tirement northward into Poland would divert General Linsingen's attempt to crush the Russian frontier near Zur-awina which would sever the communications of the Russian army in southeastern Galacia and Bukowina. The military writers here say the real danger zone from the Russian standpoint is in Zurawana district and along the Dniester.

According to Berlin, the Austro-German forces have battered through Niemerow, 30 miles northwest of British newspapers, though not min-imizing the importance of the Austro-German successes in Galacia, acclaim what is styled the Grand Duke Nichwhat is styled the Grand Duke McLi-olas' elusive strategy in shifting his front from north and south to north-west and southeast. This maneuver it is asserted, has defeated the Austro-German blow to some extent and at the same time denied to them a full test of strength.

Thus the Russian retreat is characterized in London as strikingly paralleling the allies' victory on the Marne. The struggle along the Dniester and before Lemberg, it is considered here, must determine which side is the more astute in the presen

> Aeroplane Hero Killed .- Lieut. Reginald A. J. Warneford, who gained fame recently by blowing to pieces a Zeppelin over Belgium, was killed yesterday by the fall of an aeroplane at Buc, France. Lieut. Warneford was piloting the machine which had as a passenger Henry Beach Needham, the American writer who also was killed Lieut. Warneford and Needham fel from a height of 500 feet. The tenant had been spending a few days in Paris where he came after his English hospital in Trianon Palace, Versailles. He had been in Europe about four months acting as correspondent of magazines and a New York newspaper. He had received permission from the military authorition.

The leading participants in the present war are the nations that were best prepared, and I fear it would have been difficult for us to keep out of this war if we had been as well prepared as they.

Since he has been absent trouble seems to have broken able misfortune it would have been if, in such an hour as this, the nation had been under the leadership of a president influenced by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

In discussing the cause of the European war, Mr. Bryan, in a lengthy analysis argues that it is no war of race, religion or families, and declares:

"If I have correctly analyzed the situation, the war is the natural result of a false philosophy. * * * The fundamental precept of this false philosophy is that might makes right."

Leading up to his argument against preparation for war by the United States, Mr. Bryan says:

"We dare not trust the peace of the world to those who spend their time in getting ready for wars that should never come. Half the energy employed in preparing for war would effect."

The subsent trouble seems to have broken due in his organization, Bentley Ackley, his pianist, and Rev. E. M. Emmett, his advance agent, having resigned. Ackley was also secretary for the evangelist. Discontent about the division of earnings seems to be at the bottom of the trouble, this division being incited by jealousy. Ackley threatens to make exposure of inside secrets, and the making of a threat or that sort will at once put him in bad order with the public, with whom Ackley will stand about on a party and goes over to the enemy because he could not get the office he wanted. It develops that Ackley's confidential friend is an officer of the New Jersey Liquor Dealer's association and it was this friend who first too and it was this friend who first on and it was this friend who first on the fundamental precept of the states.

The Daily Mail today renews its campaign against cotton in a column editorial urging the government to de-clare the staple contraband immediately. The newspaper calls cotton "one indispensable food for the Ger-man guns," and adds: "Our embargo has partly stopped cotton trading, but we have not cut off the export of cotton from the United States in neutral ships to neutral ports. If we declared cotton contraports. If we declared cotton contra-band we could seize ships with cotton cargoes and demand of neutrals to prove that the cotton was not intend-ed to reach the enemy.

"We could do this under the princi-

(Sweden) harbor than ever in history "Neutral ports in Holland, Denmark and Greece," the newspaper adds, "are all playing their part similarly. I has been stated that fears of offending America, which is the biggest cotton growing country, are the cause of the government's hesitation, but Manches ter alone has offered to negotiate for the purchase of the whole American crop at an excellent price."

-General Carranza has declined for the present at least, says a Washington dispatch of June 16, to accept the overtures for peace in Mexico, made by the Villa-Zapata faction. Three such offers have gone unanswered. The latest, it became known today, was made through the medium of the United States. A few days ago the convention government in Mexico City, over which Francisco Lagos Chazaros presided, formally presented to the Brazilian minister, as representa Niemerow, 30 miles northwest of Lemberg and are advancing toward Jawarow, which is only 25 miles west of the Galacian capital. Three great masses of Austro-Germans thus are sweeping from the San toward the capital and the prediction is made that the decisive battle, if one is fought, will take place in the vicinity of Gordek, where military observers believe the Russians would benefit by the lake country.

The Brazilian minister, as represent tive of the American government for transmission to Gen. Carranza a proposal for a thirty day armistice, during which time arrangements could be made for establishing a provisional government. The plan called for a popular election. The proposal was communicated to Gen. Carranza. On inquiry as to whether there would be any reply, Gen. Carranza is understood to have said there would be none.

THIS VERY HOT WEATHER

This terrifically hot weather calls for the coolest possible Clothing-Clothing that makes for solid comfort-at least as near Solid Comfort as is possible. Knowing men of experience have little trouble in selecting their Underwear for hot weather-the Knowing Ones wear either the famous B. V. D. Underwear, in Short Sleeve or Sleeveless Vests, and Knee Length Drawers, or B. V. D. Union Suits. Still other knowing comfortable dressers prefer the famous Chalmers Porus Knit Underwear. Whichever you prefer, you will find both kinds here, in all sizes and at the right prices. Get next, if you would have warm weather comfort.

STRAW HATS—NEWEST STYLES. Every good dresser wants a comfort, stylish Straw Hat for warm weather wear. You can easily be suited here. We have a dozen or more good shapes—shapes that will just suit all kinds of heads and faces—Priced at $1.00 and Upward.
